MTRA (Radiographer) Positions in Neuroradiology (diagnostic and / or interventional)

Department of Neuroradiology, University Hospital Zurich

Throughout the year we are opening positions for radiographers (MTRA) who want to obtain an in depth training, a high-profile subspecialisation or advanced functions in Neuroradiology. Experienced candidates with profound knowledge and skills in Diagnostic Neuroradiology and / or Interventional Neuroradiology are very welcome to apply. The interventional positions are also open for operation room / surgery nurses. Depending on your professional qualification, interests and career plans we are open to find an attractive job description with you. We expect high intrinsic motivation, team orientation and interest in academic activities, but are also open for part time appointments.

The Department of Neuroradiology at the University Hospital Zurich is an internationally renowned academic institution that covers the full spectrum of diagnostic and interventional procedures employing the latest technologies (own neuroradiology MR-center, 2 bilanar neuroangiography units, CT's, ultrasound, X-ray's,...). Our service is provided in close cooperation with all clinical Neuro-disciplines including dedicated intensive-care and stroke units and offers very unique clinical and research opportunities.

We offer exposure to the full spectrum of neuroradiological procedures including various top-level applications in a motivated team, opportunities to be creative, to develop and shape your profile (also under professional guidance, if required), or to take over responsibilities. The successful candidate is expected to participate in the on-call service.

We are seeking for strongly team oriented and highly motivated colleagues, who want to dedicate their work to Neuroradiology.

Please feel free to contact Professor Stippich or Mrs. Leiggenger for further details. You may send your application to:
